FINAL DAY OF THE FAIR

ATTENDANCE DIMINISHED TODAY, BUT STILL IT IS SATISFACTORY.

18,021 PEOPLE PAID ON THURSDAY

This Does Not Include Exhibitors' Tickets—7,477 Paid to Sit in the Grand Stand During the Races Yesterday.

Today, "Fraternal day," as well as closing day at the biggest and best state fair ever held since the institution of the state fair, attracted a large crowd, although not as many people were on the grounds by several thousands as were visitors Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The big crowd of the week was on Thursday, when the paid admissions, not including exhibitors' tickets, were 18,021. During the racing program 7,477 people paid admission to the grand stand, which does not include those occupying box seats.

An approximate report of the attendance up to today places it at 45,200, that being the paid admissions only.

The fair as a whole closes as the greatest and most largely attended of any previous Missouri fair, the weather being favorable each day, with the exception of Monday, when many people were prevented from attending by threatening showers and an extremely cold wind.

Today's events consisted of several features, including band and orchestral concerts in the forenoon; final display of horses and other live stock in the show rings; and the competitive drill by drill teams representing several different fraternal organizations.

The "War 'Big Thursday,'" Truly. Thursday afternoon, "Missouri day," the largest crowd that was ever on the state fair grounds at one time witnessed the excellent racing program and viewed the magnificent display made in every department, an all concessions, eating houses, lunch stands and entertainment features did a prosperous business.

People on the grounds estimated the crowd all the way from 17,000 to 35,000, but according to the best information obtainable at this time the attendance was between 20,000 and 22,000.

The police department, ably assisted by a corps of detectives of national reputation, handled the crowds in a manner that won for them much praise, Chief Howard Wood receiving many favorable comments for the protection the visitors were given from pickpockets, petty thieves and other classes of crooks.

One of the features of the afternoon was the giving of a grand parade in front of the grand stand in the race course of prize winners in several classes, including horses, mules and cattle.

In the races Bellar, owned by Lee Carpenter, of Sedalia, took second money in the 2:30 trot for a purse of $1,000, and his horse, Queen Walnut, divided second and third money with Cappadilla in the 2:16 pace for a purse of $600, the horses in that race both finishing second, third and fourth in different heats. Taylor was their driver.

Surena, the guileless wonder, who trotted a mile in 2:09 Wednesday, lowered that record yesterday, going the mile without either suiky or driver, in 2:08 1/2.

On account of the high wind that prevailed during the afternoon the ship did not make its flight through the air until late in the evening, starting at 5:50, with Aeronaut Dick Dallas operating it. A most successful flight was made over the grounds at a dizzy height, and the exhibition was considered a very clever one.

The results of the races follow:

SALOON REGULATION.

Iowa is supposed to be a prohibition state, but it isn't. It has one law forbidding the sale of liquors and another which permits cities to in effect collect regular license from saloons. The result has been that in many towns the grogshops have been running wild. The city of Davenport has 240 saloons. The Davenport grog-geries have been conducted in a free and easy manner, and at length public sentiment and a united fight against the saloons resulted. The liquor men finally realized the situation and some conferences were held. An agreement was reached by which the saloonists bound themselves to the following conditions:

1. Close every day at 10 p. m.
2. Remain closed election days.
3. No free lunches.
4. No wine rooms.
5. No screens or blinds.
6. Payment of tax quarterly in advance.

Women and children not to be sold intoxicating liquors.
The agreement makes no mention of Sunday closing, but by private agreement with the prosecution officers the saloons are to be open on Sundays until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. One saloon keeper refused to agree to the terms of the decree and his place was closed by the court.
The law and order league of Davenport inaugurated the prosecution that resulted as stated.

In Dubuque, Ia., the saloons have been forced to agree to the terms mentioned in the Davenport case, and have agreed in addition that they will close their saloons on Sunday.
The telegraph of that city states that the saloon keepers there are now ad that the Sunday closing law is being enforced, and says:

"Their net revenues have suffered very little. They take one day in seven to be with their families to get out of the saloon atmosphere and enjoy the fresh air. Eighty per cent of them, if asked tomorrow if they would like to go back to the old conditions would answer in the negative."

NEGROES AND PROHIBITION.

While the country is all agog with the progress that prohibition is making in the southern states, yet there is a cause deeper than the apparent desire to make it hard to get a drink. It is a new feature of the race problem, which is at the acute stage in that section. While the negro has been crowded away from the ballot box, yet he can and may return to power through sheer force of numbers, as during the days of reconstruction.

The negro of the south can not resist the temptation to soak his hide with booze, when he has the opportunity, and to remove the chance is one of the great causes of the prohibition success there. The negro is the laborer of the south, but he is no good when drinking. It may be a long ways between saloons, but southern hospitality will not be robbed of the privilege of mixing a mint julep when friends call.

The national irrigation congress meets at Sacramento this year, and their discussions will include ways and means of reclaiming arid lands, preserving forests and harnessing of floods. There are more than 80,000, 000 acres of land in our country that if irrigated would provide homes for a million families, or about five million people. Our forests are being stripped more than thirty times as fast as they are being replenished, and the world's coal supply is limited.

It would seem that this is a congress that has a big field before it, and with the friendly feeling that the government is showing should just now get in its best licks, as there is no time like the present for doing things.

Like many of the others of its kind, the Jamestown exposition has been a money loser for its promoters from the start, but other eastern cities have been great gainers by it, most notably Washington. Situated as it is, it catches the visitors both coming and going, and it is said that the megaphone men on the sight seeing automobiles are working overtime, in the effort to find new ways to describe the sights of the city.

Secretary Wilson has had the stone cutters erase the Latin words, "Fructus," "Cereales," "Forestes" and
"Flores" from the facades of the new agriculture building, and in their place will be chiseled "Fruit," "Cereals," "Forests" and "Flowers," all of which causes the general public to say that Tama Jim's hat covers something besides a bald spot.

It sometimes seems as if the simple life and purity business was mostly a bluff. When the right sort of temptation comes we are usually startled to discover how quickly the truly good falter and then fall.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish seems to think that the introduction of a girl into society for the purpose of marrying her off is a sort of low comedy.
If she fails to get married off it is rather high tragedy.

If the Standard should go out of business on account of the big fine, would Kenesaw Mountain Landis be known as the author of "The Light That Failed?"

When vice has a good front it is not very hard for a woman to first admire then embrace.

It may be very sanitary to sleep in the open these nights, but it is advisable to tuck in your feet.

It's funny how graceful the most ungraceful woman on roller skates thinks she looks.

Those Old Moons.

Let us sympathize with the little ray of sunshine who, having done a lot of hard thinking for a year or two about the "new moon," suddenly broke out in the presence of several dignified professors, guests of the house, with, "Papa, you told me these men knew everything about the world and heaven. Please ask them if they can tell me what becomes of all the old moons."—New York Press.

Bit of Light for Dark Room.

A new idea for a room that is inclined to be dark, or where all the light and sun possible is desired, yet the furnished, dainty effect of window draperies is liked, is to simply hang a ruffle of dainty dimity, Swiss, etc., across the top of the window. This is especially effective for a bay window. The ruffle looks better if boxpleated.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.
It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves alone brought their success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.
For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

GOT THE WRONG BABIES.

Curious Mixup That Occurred Recently in French Hospital.

A curious mistake occurred yesterday at the hospital at Amiens, says a correspondent of the London Mail.
Two young women had recently been attended there. One had given birth to a boy, and the other had given birth to a girl. Yesterday their babies were taken from them to be vaccinated.
After the vaccination the babies, in their swaddling clothes, were returned to their mothers, who went away with them. Soon afterward one of the mothers returned to the hospital in tears.
Her child was a boy, but on returning home she discovered that the nurse had handed her a girl. She insisted on her boy being returned to her. A scene of great confusion occurred, as nobody knew the address of the other mother. At last, toward nightfall, the other mother arrived, greatly excited, complaining that she had been given a boy in mistake for her girl baby. The change was duly executed, and the two mothers went away happy.

WOULD WORK EITHER WAY.

Practical Young Man Quieted the Fears of His Fiancee.

Not long ago a young man, most notably unblest with worldly goods, met and won a girl whose decided personal charms were in no wise lessened by the fact of her possessing fully enough to at least keep the wolf howling at a distance. "Do you know, George," she one day said softly, "I am almost sorry that I have any money—not of course, that I think you would love me the less, but—well—" "I am not, dearest," he replied, fondly stroking her soft, brown hair. "You know I'd love you if you had not a penny, but I'm glad you have. You see, I know that, should I die, you would be well provided for." "But suppose I should die?" she whispered. "Well; then I'd be well provided for, darling," he answered, for he is a practical young man.

Fine Health in Open Air.

The healthiest persons in the world are gypsies, and they live in the open air, but there is an erroneous idea that gypsies are people who defy the elements to destroy their health. On the contrary, they are very careful, indeed, of their health, even though living out of doors. They never go to bed with the draft blowing over them, but have free circulation around them, yet protected from rain and wind. While sometimes seemingly scantily attired, they always are warmly clothed beneath, wearing warm underclothing. The consump-tives who go to places for their health are now living exactly as the gypsies, and because of the disease being considered contagious, they must live in tents. It is here that the efficacy of pure air is being fully demonstrated, for it often effects a cure if the patient is not too weak when the treatment begins.

Value of the Thumb.

"Solomon says thumbs up," because the thumb is said to be worth fully one-third the entire value of the hand.
The different fingers are far from having all the same value before the eyes of the law. Much of the importance among them is the thumb, for without it the hand no longer is a pincer but merely a claw. The French court allows in damages 15 to 25 per cent. value for the right thumb, and ten to 15 per cent. for the left thumb.
The Austrian schedule gives from 15 per cent. for the left to 35 per cent. for the right. In Germany 20 to 28 per cent., and even as high as 33.3 per cent., has been awarded. The percentage is based on 100 as the total value of the hand, industriously speaking, before the accident.

The Clothes Tree.

An article of furniture too seldom used is the clothes "tree," resembling the posts of our grandmother's four-post bedstead. It stands on three feet and has half a dozen prongs or hooks.
As it takes up so little floor space and holds so many garments it is an invaluable article. In a small hall or vestibule it takes the place of the hat rack, and in a larger hall it complements the table on which gentlemen's hats are laid. For the necessary aliring of one's clothes over night it is preferable to chairs, as it can so easily be set out of the sleeping room.
In the bathroom it is especially convenient.

To Preserve Raisins.

Late in the fall, or early in winter, as soon as the fresh seeded raisins come in, buy as many as you will need during the hot weather. Remove from boxes and pack into glass jars. Set the jars in a pan of cold water; put top, the stopper, and boil until hot (through about one hour). Then seal the bottles tight, and the raisins will keep moist and fresh until the next winter. It is best to put a block of wood in the pan under the bottles to keep them from cracking.

IF YOU ARE DEAF

If you are deaf or your hearing is in any way impaired, no matter what may have produced the trouble, you owe it to yourself to call upon
Dr. N. B. Webber, representing
Geo. B. Way, the inventor of the Way Ear Drum,
who is staying
at the New Antlers hotel. Mr.
Way, whose home office is 1338 Majestic
Building, Detroit, Mich., is sending his ear specialist, Dr. Webber, to Sedalia to meet personally those who are deaf.

Mr. Way, formerly a mechanical engineer by profession, was deaf himself for twenty-five years, and it was to relieve his own trouble that he devoted his medical skill, and years of special study of the ear, to solving the problem of an artificial aid to hearing. His theory that the human ear is only a delicate piece of mechanism has been proved true, and it is interesting to see Mr. Way remove from his ears the little devices, without which he is as badly off as those who daily consult his for defective hearing. The success of the Way Ear Drum in relieving deafness is unquestioned. Coupled with the absolute correct scientific principle in design, the Way Ear Drums appeal strongly from the fact that they are invisible, are painless, cannot collapse in the ear, are easily placed and removed, and, best of all, restore hearing. United States and Canadian patents have been granted on Mr. Way's valuable invention. All who are deaf should visit the doctor while he is in the city.

Dr. Webber is at the New Antlers hotel until Saturday night next. All who are deaf should be sure to call on him. It will cost nothing to learn whether he can help you or not.

Call at the Antlers and an attendant will show you to Dr. Webber's parlors.

Largest Locomotive Is Built.
The largest steam locomotive in the world is about to be turned out from the plant of the American Locomotive company at Schenectady for the Erie railroad. It will haul on grades a train of loaded cars a mile and a half long without the aid of helpers. Its weight is 413,000 pounds.

The engine is in reality two engines under one boiler. It has four cylinders. The engine is designed for pusher service and will operate on the Susquehanna and Gulf Summit pass.
While the hauling capacity of these enormous engines is more than double that of the heaviest freight engine now in service on the road, the load on any single pair of driving wheels is less than that of many of the ordinary road engines of the present day. In view of this fact the advantages offered by this type for the concentration of power in a single unit are readily recognized.

REULBACH WON GAME

"MISSOURI BATTERY" NIPPED
THE CLAWS OF THE DE-TROIT TIGERS.

TOOK SECOND GAME, SCORE 5 TO 1

The Two Clubs Left Last Night for Detroit, Where the Third Contest Is Being Pulled Off
This Afternoon.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—It required just one hour and thirty-five minutes for the Chicago Cubs, with a Missouri-bred battery, working faultlessly, to trounce the Detroit Tigers in the third game of the series for the championship of the world yesterday.
The score was 5 to 1, and the second knot was tied in the Tigers' tail.

Jennings and his band gave their valorous yells in a more despairing tone than had yet been heard. Now Chicago goes to Detroit for two games, and many of the faithful fans took a train last night to vie with the whole state of Michigan in the "rooting" for their respective teams.
Eddie Siever and Eddie Killian, southpaw Tigers, yesterday were devoured, while big Ed Reulbach, a St.
Louis boy, well backed by Johnny Kling, of Kansas City, and his other mates, was in good form.

Five two-baggers and five singles were smashed out by the Cubs, and that tells the story. There was not a base stolen in the game. Reulbach struck out two men and passed three, while Siever, who pitched four innings, fanned one man and issued no passes, and Killian, who took up the Tigers' burden in the fifth, fanned one man and gave one Cub free transportation.

Both teams, having recovered from the nervousness of the first two games, played clean, hard ball, and the only errors chargeable came when Dave Jones let fall Tinker's long fly in the fourth, and when Evers threw low to Chance on Sie-ver's grounder in the seventh.
Ever's error gave the Tigers no material advantage, while Jones' misplay allowed Shulte to score at once, and Reulbach's hit scored Tinker, whereas if he had caught the ball there would have been but one run scored in that inning.

The day was the best so far in the series, but the crowd was appre-ciably smaller, as the official attendance was 13,144. The cash gate receipts were $16,212.50. For the first two games the receipts were $30,- 000.

Tinker shone to advantage, although not in so brilliant a style as O'Leary did Wednesday. "Old Mis-sour" had eight assists and hit one error, and he also made a sparkling catch of O'Leary's high drive in the fifth and fired the ball to Evers to force Coughlin for the third out when Rossman was on third ready to dive for the home plate.

Reulbach showed off the reel that he was "right," and the way he sped the ball over the plate delighted the hearts of the Cub fans, for when Reulbach is good he is very, very good.

Rossman was the best hitter for Detroit, as he was Wednesday. He

Short Line in Wisconsin.

The claims in The Sentinel that the Indian Ford railroad is the shortest railroad in the state, being only 120 feet long, is denied. There is a railroad in Oneida county that is only 60 feet long. It is on the southwest shore of Tomahawk lake and was built by C. C. Yawley of Hazelhurst to transfer launches and all boats from Tomahawk lake to Lake Kathrine through the canal which connects the two lakes. This was made necessary from the fact that the water in Lake Kathrine is about two feet higher than the water in Tomahawk lake.

Father of Miss Sapp Swears Out Warrant for Whitlow.

Iola, Kas., Oct. 11.—The coroner's jury, which has spent three days investigating the mysterious death of May Sapp, last night returned a verdict that "Miss Sapp died from wounds in the neck caused by a sharp instrument in the hands of a person or persons other than Miss Sapp."

So determined was the jury to make plain their disbelief in the theory of suicide in connection with the case, that when they inadvertently worded their verdict to read "that Miss Sapp's death was caused by 'person or persons unknown to Miss Sapp,'" they promptly changed it to a "person other than Miss Sapp."

A warrant was sworn out last night immediately after the coroner's jury reported for Samuel F. Whitlow, John Sapp, father of the dead girl, swore to the complaint.

STRANGE STORY IS TOLD

YOUNG BROKER CLAIMS MISS MALONEY IS AREADY HIS WIFE.

SHE AND ANOTHER DISAPPEARED

If Story Is True the Rich Heiress May Have Committed Bigamy in Eloping and Marrying Another.

New York, Oct. 11.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Helen Maloney, daughter of Martin Maloney, the Philadelphia multi-millionaire, was given a highly sensational turn today.

At the time of Miss Maloney's disappearance Samuel Clarkson, a young Englishman, also dropped out of sight, and it was generally believed that the couple had eloped and had been married.

Last came the news from Montreal that the couple had been married by a Catholic priest in that city and had then returned to New York and sailed for Europe, and today comes the publication here of the unqualified statement of Arthur Herbert Osborn, a young broker in this city, that Miss Maloney is his wife.

According to Osborn's statement, he and Miss Maloney were married Dec. 28, 1905, and the marriage has never been annulled. Osborn declares that he married the girl on that date and that assumed names were used because at the time Miss Maloney desired to keep the marriage a secret. Osborn declares that Clarkson learned of the wedding and once sought to have it annulled.

Cassiches.

Two motzas (pasover cakes), one-quarter pound of motza meal, two ounces of ground almonds, two ounces of stoned raisins, two ounces of cleaned, sultana raisins, two eggs, a quarter-pound of brown sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg to taste. Soak the motzas, mix the almonds, sugar, raisins, sultanas and spice with one egg. Squeeze the water out of the motzas, add to them the meal and the other egg. Put a little of this paste into a spoon, shape into an oval, lay a little of the other mixture on and cover with paste. Shape carefully, sprinkle with meal and fry in boiling fat or oil. Serve with clarified sugar.

Orange Cream Pie.

Beat thoroughly the yolks of two eggs, with one-half cup of sugar; add one heaping tablespoonful of cornstarch, dissolved in milk. Pour into one pint of boiling milk and let it cook about three minutes. Cool and flavor with extract of orange. Pour into a baked crust. Beat the whites of eggs to a stiff froth; add one-half cupful of sugar, flavored with extract of orange. Spread on top, put in the oven, and let it slightly brown.

English Salmon.

Take the best brand of salmon. Pour off the oil, but do not take out bones nor skin. Put all into a basin and beat well with a silver fork, after adding pepper and salt, until thoroughly mixed. Put into small earthenware molds and cover with melted butter. The most expert cook could not tell it from the fresh salmon.

Baked Breakfast Eggs.

Grease muffin tins well with butter; break an egg into each compartment, and season with salt, pepper and butter. Set in moderate oven for five minutes. Remove each egg carefully and serve on hot platter. Eggs cooked this way make an attractive dish.

COLORADO A GREAT STATE

MAKES A SPLENDID SHOWING IN FRUITS AND GRAINS AT MISSOURI STATE FAIR.

"We are not here for the purpose of coaxing people away from Missouri or to make them feel bad because of your misfortune which enables us to 'show you' in Colorado fashion this time instead of the Missouri way that we can turn a trick or two ourselves when it comes to raising fruit that looks well and tastes better. We are willing, however, to take off our hats to your state and graciously acknowledge that many of her sons have come to Colorado and blazed the way for us to succeed in fruit culture, especially in the splendid way we are doing. The Missourian makes a good citizen and we cannot be censured if we desire him to know that Colorado is on the map and offer him a cordial invitation to look the state over, if he ever thinks of changing his location. We have many in our state who formerly lived in Missouri."

"Yes, we make a fair showing for a state that is always regarded in the east as a mining state purely, continued Prof. W. G. Brandenburg, who has charge of the exhibit and who is ably assisted by H. M. Cushing. "You see, we have been doing things so rapidly out there in our crop production and so quietly, too, that it has scarcely become known just the strides we are making. We produce such a variety of very profitable crops, too. Now there is the sugar beet for example. We commenced growing them eight years ago. Last year the output of our fourteen large factories was nearly 350,000,000 pounds of sugar valued at $14,000,000. A Colorado sugar beet grower has a very poor crop, indeed, if it does not net him above all expenses more than $50 per acre. Indeed, I know of Missouri farmers who have gone out there and paid for their land with the first year's crop, and this was $60 an acre land. On account of intensive sunshine, coupled with irrigation, sugar beets, according to German experts, attain their highest perfection with us. The United States only produces one-eighth of the sugar we consume, so there is little danger of over production. This industry has been responsible for greatly increased land values with us and it is freely predicted that the time will come when our sugar beet land will command from $200 to $500 per acre. It certainly pays a big rate of interest on that valuation today, and is growing better every year. The sugar beets in our exhibit are from Greeley, Fort Morgan, Longmont, Sugar City and Rocky Ford. They do well in practically all irrigated sections of our state."

"Now, here is another crop grown with decided profit in our state. It is the field pea. We grow but little corn, comparatively speaking, in Colorado, but many farmers in the San Luis valley have found these peas a splendid substitute for corn as a feed and a very superior ration for swine and lambs, producing a remarkably fine flavored pork and mutton. Only yesterday the manager of the Kansas City stock yards told me of the high flavor of Colorado pea-fed stock and that it always topped the market in price. We have many of the best farmers from Missouri, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana in the San Luis valley and they say that swine will take on as much or more flesh from one acre of field peas as from one and one-third acres of corn in the best part of the corn belt. That land can be bought for about one-third what the best corn land in the middle west commands, too. The peas are produced at an expense not to exceed $3 per acre. I have been told by many of our farmers that peas fed to hogs would net from $20 to $25 per acre easily enough."

"Here are samples of alfalfa, which Secretary of Agriculture Wilson says is the most nutritious of all grasses. Conditions are ideal for its growth in our state and the seed matures to perfection and is very profitable. Alfalfa is a great soil builder and serves as a great fertilizer in crop rotation. "Here are samples of wheat and oats that indicate they were grown where the soil is favorable. Very little of this wheat has averaged less than 55 bushels per acre. Here is the Egyptian seven-headed variety that averaged more than 80 bushels. Colorado produces more wheat to the acre than any other state, according to United States census reports. Our average is over 33 bushels per acre. These samples of wheat shown were grown near Greeley, Fort Collins, Loveland, Longmont, Boulder, Fort Morgan, Sterling, Rocky Ford, Las Animas, Lamar, Monte Vista, Alamosa, Romeo, Durango, Montrose, Delta and Grand Junction. Here is a sample of oats grown in Delta county, seven feet in height and yielded 125 bushels per acre. That looks mighty good to most of the middle west farmer, year, who tell me oats are pi—always depend upon a large crop under irrigation."

"Now, these crops grown without irrigation do not show up to a great disadvantage. This wheat averaged from 20 to 38 bushels to the acre, grown at Holyoke, Akron, Byers, Limon, Burlington and Cheyenne Wells. These oats were grown in the same locality in Eastern Colorado. This land was considered worthless for other than grazing purposes until three or four years ago, we tried the Campbell system of soil culture there, and today very satisfactory crops are the result. This land has jumped from $1.75 per acre to $10 and as high as $20 per acre within the last three years. Eastern Colorado is being rapidly settled and those who are locating there will make good. We get sufficient moisture in that part of the state if it is properly conserved and the ground properly cultivated."

Let me tell you something about our fruit. The good Lord might have made a fruit growing section where it would have attained a greater degree of excellence than it does in the counties of Mesa, Delta and Montrose, but it is a known fact that He never did. Soil and climate are just right to produce a strong, vigorous tree, and fruit that in point of flavor, color and keeping quality, is unexcelled. For this reason our fruit is in active demand on eastern markets, and fancy prices always prevail for the Colorado quality. The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Grand Junction, where the most of the fruit is from, writes me that these Jonathan apples are selling there for three dollars per bushel box. That means easily $4 for January. I have a preacher friend over there whose orchard this year will return him 1,000 bushels of Jonathans per acre. That is not so bad for an off year, is it? I know many men out there who annually net $1,000 per acre on their fruit, and profits of from $400 to $600 are very ordinary. There is a fortune in a small orchard in Western Colorado. I know men who went there six or eight years ago with only a few hundred dollars, and today have orchards they could easily sell at $1,500 per acre. The grower of these pears writes me that he will clear about $1,000 per acre. We are not having quite a full crop in those counties, but it will bring big money, certainly, this year, and we have established such a reputation for our fruit that we are always assured of a fine market. Close to Grand Junction the government will, within a couple of years, reclaim by irrigation a large body of valuable fruit land. In Montrose county the government is soon to complete an irrigation project that will water 150,000 acres of splendid land. This is all deemed land, but is very reasonable as yet. It is located in Montrose and Delta counties. Here is some splendid fruit from these counties. Land values in sections where fruit is grown is worth big money, but it is going higher every day. This fruit display has attracted a wonderful amount of attention wherever we have been. The demand for good fruit is increasing yearly."

Colorado's citizens are, for the most part, Americans who have graduated from the plodding commercial east to make homes and fortunes in the pure air of the mountains. Our climate has always been recognized as possessing those qualities that serve as the best tonic for nearly all physical ills, and last, but not least, is the fact that our scenery is in many respects the most awe-inspiring and at once the most beautiful to be found in the world. The opportunities that exist in Colorado for all who are seeking new homes or new locations are so manifold, the inducements so obvious, the promises so numerous and so certain that it seems unnecessary to dwell upon them longer in detail. Summarizing them, by way of conclusion, Colorado affords unexcelled opportunities for investments in lands, for farming in all its various branches, on a scale of profit and production unknown to other localities; for the making of homes amid the most wholesome and attractive surroundings. To such varied opportunities and the advantages of nearly widely extended markets, of railway and telephone communications, of a cheap and abundant supply of coal for fuel, of educational facilities, as varied as they are excellent, of an intelligent, industrious, enterprising and well ordered resident population, of a climate of unsurpassed healthfulness, of landscape views, which the Rocky Mountain region alone can furnish—and you have the Colorado of today."

The exhibit was made under the direction of the Colorado State Commercial organization, a state institution gladly giving information about Colorado. Headquarters are in Denver.

PRaise FOR STATE FAIR

MR. DEAL DECLARES MISSOURI INVESTED ITS $68,000 WISELY.

HERE ON TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

None of the Metropolitan Newspapers Advertised the Event, But it is a Splendid Success Nevertheless.

"The people of Missouri have no conception of the magnitude of their state fair now in progress at Sedalia."

This is the opinion of E. P. Deal, of Charleston, representative in the state legislature from Mississippi county, and a business man of South-eastern Missouri, says last night's St. Louis Times.

"With the $68,000 appropriated by the legislature," declared Mr. Deal, who spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Sedalia, "the managers have erected buildings that now prove to be almost inadequate, even though they did as well with the money as could possibly have been done."

"The fair is hardly accessible to Southeastern Missouri, but is worth every dollar it is costing the state and more. The exhibits are superior to anything I have ever seen at fairs, with the possible exception of the Missouri live stock and agricultural exhibit at the Louisiana Purchase exposition in 1904."

"None of the metropolitan newspapers advertised the event at Sedalia, but the people have. I have no doubt but that the 1908 fair will be larger and of more importance than the one this year."

"To show how it is patronized it is only necessary to state that the admissions on Tuesday were over 11,000. That was Sedalia day. Wednesday, known as Governor's day, there were 17,000 paid admissions. On that occasion Gov. Folk delivered an address. Big Thursday will be the big day."

Her First Impressions.

"The first impression is the one you should always go by," the little grass widow advised. "I know by experience. I have never yet had a husband that I liked at first sight. He always had to win me. Then, after I had been married awhile, I invariably went back to my first impression of dislike that kept on getting worse and worse till I had to leave him. I shall never marry again," she finished, "unless I fall head over heels in love with him the first minute I meet him."

Best Sleep of All.

"I see that an eminent physician declares that two hours of sleep before midnight are worth more than six after that hour." "Nonsense! Two hours of sleep after you're called in the morning are worth more than anything else."

Dull Times.

"Hello!" said the funny man to Finnegan the undertaker. "I suppose your business is dead with you?" "Faith, it's worse than that," replied Finnegan. "Shure, I haven't buried a livin' soul in near a month."

BREAKFAST DAINTIES

APPETIZING DISHES FOR THE MORNING MEAL.

To Get the Best Results with Biscuits—Cornbread and Sour Milk Corn Cake—Soft Gingerbread is Nice.

While the acidity of milk varies, requiring judgment on the part of the cook, a safe general rule to follow is a level teaspoonful soda to one pint sour milk, that has stood two or three days, and a scant teaspoonful soda to a pint of sour milk that has just turned to a jelly-like consistency. The mistake that many cooks make is to add too much soda. Just enough is required to counteract the acidity of the milk. Sour milk that has stood long enough to acquire a bitter or moldy taste is unfit for use and must be thrown away.

For the biscuit, sift together two cupfuls flour, one-half teaspoonful salt, a level teaspoonful sugar and a rounding teaspoonful baking powder. Put into a bowl a half cup each sour cream and milk, then beat into it half a level teaspoonful soda dissolved in a tablespoonful cold water. When it stops "singing" stir in with the sifted flour, mix gently but quickly with a spoon and turn out on a well-floured board. Pat with the floured hand until a smooth cake is formed, then cut into shapes with a small biscuit cutter or tea caddy lid. Lay in a greased biscuit pan and bake in a hot oven. If you have no cream, rub a spoonful lard or butter in the prepared flour before adding a cupful sour milk with the soda. Keep the dough as soft as possible, so that the biscuit will be tender. Buttermilk biscuits are made in the same way, using a tablespoonful shortening to a quart of flour.

Steamed Cornbread.—Sift into a bread bowl three cupfuls Indian meal, one cupful wheat flour, and a half teaspoonful of salt. Mix in another bowl one cupful sour milk and one of molasses and beat into it a teaspoonful soda dissolved in a tablespoonful cold water. Add to the sifted flour, pour in a well-greased mold and steam steadily for three hours. Bake a few moments at the end to brown the top of the loaf.

Sour Milk Corn Cake.—Sift together one cup flour, a half cup Indian meal, two tablespoonfuls sugar and a half teaspoonful each salt and soda. Pour in one cupful sour milk and a teaspoonful lard or butter melted, and beat well. Fold in a beaten egg and bake in hot gem tin or a round shallow pan.

Sour Milk Pancakes.—Stir into a pint of sour milk a teaspoonful soda, a half teaspoonful salt and flour to make a good consistency for baking. Have the griddle hot and well greased, bake the cakes in perfect circles and pile one on top of the other. No eggs are needed. A nice addition to this season is a handful of huckleberries.

Soft Gingerbread with Sour Milk.—Put into a pan one cup molasses, one cup sour milk, one-half cup softened butter, one heaping teaspoonful soda, a tablespoonful ginger and flour to mix very soft.

OLD FOLKS

Can Renew Their Strength.

While it is impossible for the aged to renew their youth we want to say to all elderly people in Sedalia that they can renew their strength by taking our delicious cod liver preparation, Vinol.

Vinol, being rich in the elements of life, is an ideal strengthener and body builder for old folks.

Mrs. A. J. Barker, of Evansville, Ind., says: "There is no other medicine in the world equal to Vinol for elderly people. I would not take a thousand dollars for the good it has done me."

Vinol is not a patent medicine, but a real cod liver preparation made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cods' livers combining with peptonate-of-iron all the medicinal, healing, body-building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil.

Vinol tones up the digestive organs, makes rich, red blood, and sound, steady nerves. In this way it repairs worn tissues, checks the natural decline of the aged, builds up the run down, tired and debilitated, and replaces weakness with strength. We ask every aged or weak person in Sedalia to try Vinol on our offer to return money, if it fails to give satisfaction.—W. E. Bard Drug Co., Sedalia, Mo.

The Frank Person.

We all know—and respect—and avoid—such persons; the world is full of them—too full for the general comfort of its other inhabitants. And frequently what they call the truth is not abstract truth at all, but is merely the expression of their own particular (and frequently erroneous) opinions.—Woman's Life.

A Bitter One.

He drew forth his check book reluctantly. "It costs more," he growled, "to get divorced than to get married." "But," said the lawyer, "it's worth more, isn't it?" They laughed together bitterly.

CASSIE CHADWICK DEAD

NOTORIOUS CAREER OF WOMAN IS FINISHED IN OHIO PRISON.

WAS QUEEN OF WOMEN SWINDLERS

Borrowed Immense Sums on Strength of Alleged Relationship to Andrew Carnegie—Trail of Wrecked Banks and Ruined Men.

Columbus, O., Oct. 11.—Mrs Cassie L. Chadwick, most notorious of women swindlers, who duped bankers and other financiers on the strength of her alleged relationship to Andrew Carnegie and other equally flimsy security, died tonight in the hospital ward of the penitentiary.

The decline in Mrs. Chadwick's health began almost from the time she entered the penitentiary on January 12, 1906, sentenced to ten years imprisonment. She fretted incessantly over her confinement and worried about her troubles until it became almost impossible for her to sleep. At times she was so peevish the patience of the prison officials was sorely tried.

Mrs. Chadwick, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Bigley, was a native of Woodstock, Canada. She first came into public notice in Toledo about twenty years ago, where she told fortunes under the name of Madame De Vere. While in that city she forged the name of Richard Brown, Youngstown, O., and for this crime was sent to the penitentiary at Columbus for nine years. She served but a portion of this sentence, and then located in Cleveland, where she married a man named Hoover. Her second husband was Dr. Leroy S. Chadwick, of Cleveland, a man of good family and excellent standing in his profession.

The Carnegie Notes. In the early part of 1902, or early in 1903, Mrs. Chadwick, in the presence of her husband, gave to Ira Reynolds, the cashier of the Wade Park bank of Cleveland, a box containing notes signed with the name of Andrew Carnegie. These forged notes are alleged to have been amounted to $7,500,000. Reynolds gave to Mrs. Chadwick a receipt for the papers, which described the notes and the signatures upon them. Mrs. Chadwick left with Reynolds as an explanation of the existence of the notes the statement that she was a natural daughter of Carnegie.

With the receipt of Reynolds in her possession, Mrs. Chadwick went to different banks and many capitalists making loans and paying not only high interest to the banks but heavy bonuses to the bank officials who loaned her the money. The extent of these transactions will never be known fully, but they ran up into the millions. They involved men of high standing in the national world and caused heavy losses to many banks.

Problem in Psychology. From the day it came to public notice, the famous "Cassie" Chadwick case, surrounded as it still is by the most profound and unpenetrable mystery, has constituted probably the most remarkable series of inexplicable events which have ever come forward to baffle the minds of scientists, physical and psychological, the world over.

This woman, possessing practically no physical charms, and claiming to be more than 50 years old, succeeded in securing millions of dollars from men, whose honesty and business integrity had never been questioned. She negotiated in notes and securities that would have seemingly appeared absurd to the veriest novice in the business world. How many men were ruined by her mysterious power, or what vast amount of money she obtained from them, will probably never be known, but her transactions will run far into the millions. In November, 1904, she was sued by a man named Newton, of Brookline, Mass., from whom she had borrowed a large amount which she was unable to pay. Other creditors came down upon her and within a short time she was placed under arrest by the federal authorities on the charge of conspiring with Charles Beckwith, the president, and A. B. Spear, of the national bank at Oberlin, O., which had been substantially looted. Mrs. Chadwick had obtained from this institution such large sums of money that it was compelled to close its doors, causing heavy losses to the depositors and ruining many of them.

Loaned His Own Fortune. President Beckwith's position in his community was unique. He was custodian of much of the acquired wealth of Oberlin and the vicinity. He knew that the national banking law prohibited a loan to any individual of more than 10 per cent of the capital stock of the corporation, which in this case would have entitled Mrs. Chadwick to only $6,000. He knew that it was against all sound banking to loan practically all of the bank's money to one person on any security, however good.

That he did this, and further loaned his own fortune, while his cashier did the same, that they concealed all this from the directors and presumably by some process from the national bank examiner, is a condition extraordinary. They knew they were doing criminal acts for which they were liable at any moment to go to jail and ruin all their depositors. Every man in Oberlin was the personal friend of Beckwith, and he could not have involved their fortunes except for some overpowering motive.

Beckwith Ruined and Dead.

From the proceeds of her operations Mrs. Chadwick furnished magnificent homes in Cleveland and elsewhere. She traveled extensively in this country and in Europe, and when arrested was occupying apartments in the Hotel Breslin, New York City.

Mrs. Chadwick, Beckwith and Spear were indicted for a variety of offenses against the national banking laws. Beckwith died before coming to trial. Spear pleaded guilty, was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary and is now serving time at Columbus, O. Mrs. Chadwick was brought to trial on March 6, 1905, and after a hearing which lasted for two weeks was found guilty of conspiracy to defraud a national bank and was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

A partial list of her "loans" follows:

Citizens National bank, Oberlin, O.	$240,000
C. T. Beckwith, president, and A. B. Spear, cashier, Citizens National bank (personal)	102,000
Herbert T. Newton, Brookline, Mass.	190,000
Euclid Avenue Savings and Trust company, Cleveland	38,000
American Exchange National bank, Cleveland	29,000
Savings Deposit bank, Elyria, O.	10,000
Wurster, jeweler, Elyria, O., personal loan secured by jewelry	10,000
J. D. Chadwick, Franklin, Pa.	9,000
Aggregate	$633,000

Classless Merchant Loses Trade.

The merchant who is careless of the worth and value of the product he buys to sell again loses incalculable dollars. The man who is cheated in the umbrella he buys, the woman who finds her fresh vegetables withered, her fresh fruit one rosy layer on a mass of either green or overripe berries, rarely patronize the man who insidiously cheats them with the badness of his commodities.

A Polite Japanese Idea.

At eight large stations on the government railroads in Japan tablets are hung up "to provide means of writing reminder for such of the passengers who have anything to communicate to their fellow travelers who do not arrive in time."

Well-Fed Australians.

Australians are among the best fed people in the world. The average quantity of meat consumed in the commonwealth is 239 pounds per head, as against 109 pounds in Great Britain and 150 pounds in America.

Gossip.

"Some men," said Uncle Eben, "blame women for gossiping and denounce around an' listens to all de neighborhood news deir wives kin git together."—Washington Star.

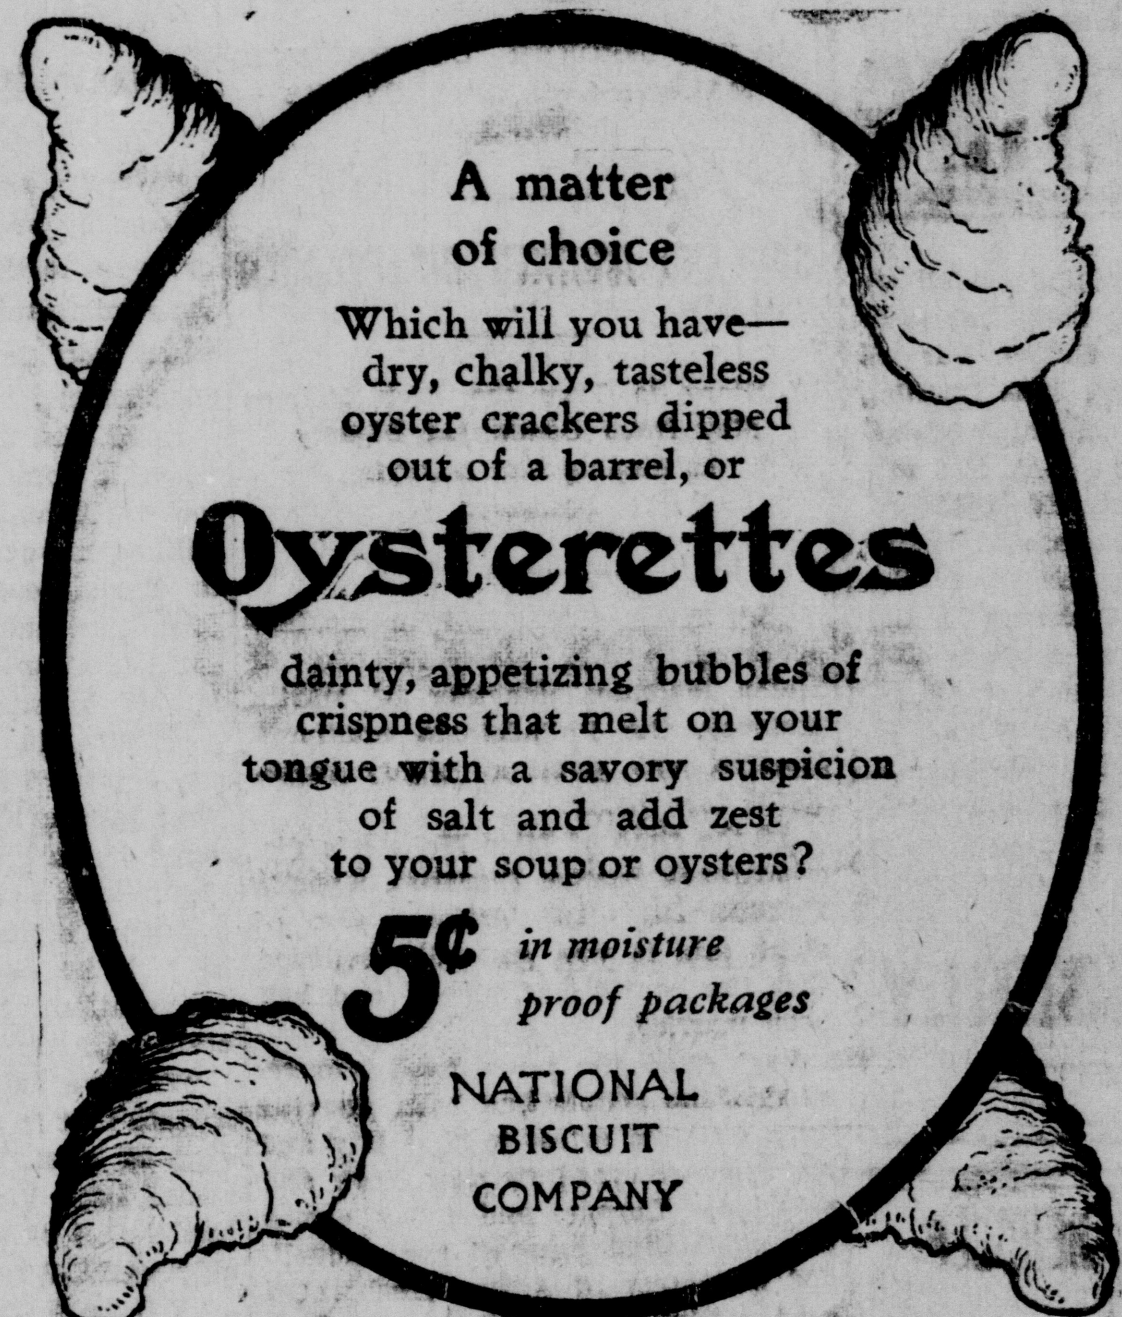

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure, or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SALT CELLAR OF LONG AGO.

Was Distinctive Mark of Caste in the Middle Ages.

"This is a medieval salt cellar," said the antiquary. "It is huge. It is shaped like a castle. It is solid silver and the price—but what is the use telling the price to you? Very magnificent, eh? In the middle age, you know, the salt cellar was the principal table ornament. Guests sat above or below the salt as they were prominent or the reverse. Where do you think you'd have sat, eh? Queer table manners they had in those days. The fastidious had individual knives, forks and spoons, but the common people ate with their fingers. You helped yourself from the general dish with your own spoon if you had one, but if you were very, very fastidious you licked the spoon clean first. The food was queer—rich, rank food—swans, herons, porpoises, garlic, verjuice, saffron. There was mead and wine in floods and ushers stood about whose duty it was to lead to convenient couches such guests as had dined too well. These ushers, being overworked, were continually striking for more pay. The hours were queer, too. Breakfast, dawn; dinner, ten o'clock; supper, four o'clock in the afternoon."

TAKING NO MORE CHANCES.

Keepers Had Special Cartridges For Poor Marksmen.

Dr. Seward Webb at a dinner at Shelburne Farms, his great Vermont estate, said of a certain poor marksman: "Visiting his English brother-in-law, he shot the head keeper in the leg the first morning he tried pheasant shooting. The man limped away cursing horribly. Next day he had wretched luck, though the wounded head keeper without malice had assigned him to a fairly good place. Bang, bang, bang, went his gun every few seconds, but not a bird fell before it. He was much embarrassed. It seemed, too, that at each of his misses the under keepers smiled at one another oddly. Finally his cartridges gave out. He hurried to the nearest keeper and demanded more. 'There ain't no more, sir,' the man answered. 'No more?' Nonsense. Why, you've got at least 1,000 in that box.' The keeper flushed and stammered: 'Ah, but them ain't for you, sir. They're for another gent. They've got shot in 'em, sir.'"

Extravagance in Dress.

Very few persons outside of the glittering circle of our enormously rich families, who constitute what is referred to as "the best society," can understand how any young woman in this or any other country can spend upon her wardrobe such vast amounts of money as are expended by the daughters of some of these families. The history of the world does not show such reckless extravagance in the way of dress. Nor, for the matter of that, does the history of the world show so riotous a use of money as that practiced by our very rich in their strictly social diversions. Happy is the lot of the man or woman who is not tempted to such foolish indulgences, which take the edge from life's real joy!

Fled from Gas.

"I had a friend," said the bearded man, "who got out of paying a bill he owed in an original way. When the collector arrived he sent word to him that he would see him in a few minutes. Then he went into the parlor, shut the doors carefully, turned on every blessed burner in the chandelier, came quickly out, and had his man show the bill collector in the parlor while he hurried upstairs. Do you think that collector waited a few minutes for him to come down? Not on your photograph. He fled from that gas filled room in about two seconds by the clock. If he had stayed three he'd have been suffocated."

Good Enough for the Dog. Bobby's mother was often distressed by her small son's lapses from correct speech, all the more because his reports from school were always so good. "Bobby," she said, plaintively, one day, "why do you keep telling Major to set up when you know 'sit up' is what you should say?" "Oh, well, mother," Bobby answered hastily, "of course I have lots of grammar, but I don't like to waste it on Major when he doesn't know the difference, being a dog."—Youth's Companion.

Speaking of Fathers. Two kids had been engaged in a heated argument over the respective merits of their sires, when Johnnie clinched his argument with the following: "Huh, that's nothing! My father was in the army, and once, when he was standing on a hill beside a cannon, a war came up the hill, and he fired the cannon and killed the whole war."—Judge's Library.

Hope.

"Woman is naturally more hopeful than man," began the moralist. "Yes," interrupted the plain man. "There's my wife, for instance; every time she has had occasion to buy fish since we started housekeeping she has asked her dealer if they were fresh, hoping, I suppose, that some day he'll say 'no.'"

Each to His Trade.

"I'm more useful than you are," boasted the collier. "Yes," replied the bulldog. "You don't say?" "Yes. You should see me go for the sheep when they start to run away." "Well, just wait until some tramps come along here and when they start to run away watch me go for the calves."

Women's Inventions.

Woman's best mechanical skill has been expended in the production of improvements in sewing machines. These include hemstitching attachments, shuttle actuating mechanism, needle threaders, trimming attachments, motors, brakes, and in fact improvements upon almost every part of an exceedingly intricate mechanism.

BILLY ROACH WON FIGHT

JOHNNIE REGAN WAS NO MATCH FOR THE CLEVER SEDALIA PUGILIST.

LATTER WON IN THE FIFTH ROUND

Lou Baptiste Was the Referee and Did His Work Well—Roach's Next Battle Will Be at Pueblo With Shoels.

Fight fans in this city, and a large delegation of sports from various parts of this and other states, witnessed a lively boxing match at the New Sedalia theater last night after the regular performance of North Bros.

The "go" was scheduled for ten rounds, and the boxers, "Billy" Roach, of this city, and "Johnny" Regan, of St. Louis, gave a very fine exhibition with the padded mitts, Roach winning the bout in the fifth round, after knocking Regan down.

After Regan had remained out almost for the count he rose, and as he did so Roach sent in another stiff jab that sent him reeling to the ropes, and his second, "Brooklyn" Tommy Sullivan, seeing that his man had no chance with the clever local fighter, and to save him from further punishment, threw up the towel.

Grabbing Regan Sullivan held him to his corner, although he wanted to make another effort, which, if he had, would probably have ended disastrously.

Roach had his man going from the sound of the gong in the first round. All the while he smiled, and occasionally would laugh after landing a telling blow on his opponent, which he did almost at will.

Lou Baptiste, the wrestler and manager of a local athletic club, was the third man in the roped arena, and his work as referee gave general satisfaction.

The Roach-Regan boxing match was the principal event of the evening, it being preceded by a sparring contest of three rounds between two colored boys.

Roach, an easy winner of the contest with the padded mitts, leaves Monday for Pueblo, Colo., where he meets a clever little fellow, Shoels, for a twenty-round fight.

KICKED IN FACE BY HORSE

Thomas Beatty, Who Makes His Home With Emmet Bouldin.

Tom Beatty, the 19-year-old son of ex-Poundmaster Jim Beatty, who is living with the family of Emmet Bouldin, two miles north of Georgetown, was kicked by a horse and quite badly hurt yesterday.

Mr. Bouldin and family were attending the fair, leaving the boy at home. He got on a horse belonging to Dr. Jim Smith for a ride, when it is supposed the horse threw him and then kicked him in the face, leaving him unconscious in the road.

He was picked up by Mr. May and taken to the home of Thomas Wiley. Emmet Bouldin was at the fair grounds and was notified of the accident, when he found Dr. Tom Smith, of Houstonia, on the grounds, and took him out. The lad in the meantime had regained consciousness. Dr. Smith found a bad cut on the nose and ear, which required several stitches.

The boy was taken home, rested well last night, and was doing nicely this morning. Dr. Smith says the wounds are not severe and that the lad will soon recover.

Burglarized a Residence.

The home of F. D. James, a Katy engineer, 512 East Fifth street, was entered by thieves some time yesterday afternoon, while the occupants were attending the fair, and almost $10 worth of different articles were stolen.

Other articles, including clothing, were stolen from John Ready, who rooms at the place. There is no clue, as entrance was gained with a skeleton key.

104 WEST MAIN STREET

The Parker-Jersey Stock company is gaining popular favor at Wood's. The company is presenting a fine line of strong attractions with specialties that are first class. The bill for tonight will be "Hearts of Kentucky," a beautiful play with a thrilling plot and strong heart interest. Special ladies' and children's matinee Saturday.

Finnegan's Ball, Sunday Night.
The Belle Rosa Green Stock Co. will present the three-act comedy, "Finnegan's Ball," at Wood's opera house Sunday night. The play is funny from start to finish, and is well handled by this company. James F. Greene, an Irish comedian, keeps an audience laughing all the time he is on the stage, for his characterization is perfect. Belle Rosa, who has pleased audiences here in light sonnette rolls and child parts, plays the "countess" in Finnegan's Ball, a part that is in such contrast to the others as to prove her to be a versatile and accomplished young actress.

The play deals with the affairs of an Irishman who suddenly becomes rich through striking oil, a dude son and an ambitious wife.

REGARDING RAILROADS

RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS TO INSPECT TRACK ON SPECIAL TRAIN.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

In relation to the controversy of Commissioner Knott, of the railroad board, with Commissioners Oglesby and Wightman regarding the inspection of the railroads of the state on special trains furnished by the railroad companies, the attorney general submits the following opinion to the board on that point, in which he holds that there is no statute prohibiting the acceptance by the board of such special train and the free transportation on it:

"The powers and the duty of the board in reference to the matter of inspection of the roadbed and other physical properties of the railroads are prescribed by section 1205 R. S. Mo., 1899. By that section it is made the duty of the commissioners, says Mr. Hadley, 'as often as they may deem it necessary to carefully examine the condition of the several railroads of this state; and it shall be the duty of said railroad commissioners, whenever they have reasonable ground to believe, either on complaint or otherwise, that any of the tracks, bridges or other structures on any railroads in this state are in a condition which renders them dangerous or unfit for the transportation of passengers with reasonable safety, to inspect and examine the same.'

"It is manifest from this provision that the manner and extent of the inspection of railroads is left to the discretion of the board, except in cases where by complaint, or other information that they have reasonable ground to believe that the road is in bad condition then it is made their mandatory duty to inspect such track.

"There is no provision in the statutes authorizing the board to require the railroads to furnish a train for the purpose of inspection, and there is nothing in the statutes prohibiting them from using a train furnished by the railroads for such purpose.

"It is not, in my opinion, a violation of sections 2253 to 2255, prohibiting the issuance by railroads or the acceptance by an officer of the state of free passes or tickets, for the members of the board to use a car furnished by the railroads for the purpose of inspection."

MATTER OF GOOD ROADS

SPECIAL ROAD DISTRICTS UNDER BENEFIT OF ASSESSMENT LAW.

TELLS HOW THEY'RE TO BE FORMED

Curtis Hill, State Highway Engineer, Who Was Here This Week, Has Something to Say On An Important Subject.

Mr. Curtis Hill, state highway engineer, who was here this week, is sending out from Columbia the following in regard to "the formation of special road districts under the benefit assessment law:

With very few exceptions the Missouri farmers are heartily in favor of improved roads and a very large proportion of these favor surfacing with some kind of hard material. Roads cannot be improved, however, without money and there are some who lose interest when it comes to paying the cost. I submit below a statement of the "benefit assessment" law, a road law by which a community is empowered to build, improve and maintain its road by organizing into a "Special Road District" and fixing upon themselves a special tax for the purpose of paying the costs of road construction therein. With every acre in the district paying its proportionate share, the cost is less than the benefits accruing thereby, and is therefore reasonable.

A district may be formed by a petition to the county court of the county within which the proposed district lies; said petition to be signed by a majority of land owners within the proposed district, setting forth the name of the district and the boundaries thereof; each district shall contain not less than two thousand acres of land on contiguous territory and shall be wholly within the county. (A boundary line need not be parallel to the road, nor parallel to another boundary line. A township, a school district, or even a whole county may be formed into a district.) A district shall contain no part of a corporate town and is therefore a county district entirely. A town may lie wholly within a district and at the same time not be a part of that district.) This petition shall be filed in the office of the county clerk thirty days before the beginning of the next regular term of the county court. The clerk shall give the proper public notice of such, setting out the date of the next regular term of court that any land-owner within the proposed district, who may desire to oppose the formation of said district, may appear and file a remonstrance. Such remonstrance shall be in writing and shall be filed with said county clerk on or before the first day of said regular term. If, after hearing such petition and remonstrance, the court shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as the public good may require and make necessary, said court shall make a preliminary order establishing such road district.

district the county court shall appoint three commissioners of the district, who shall be owners of land within the district and residents of the county, who shall take charge of the affairs of the district, and shall hold their office until the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January thereafter. On said date the land owners in said district shall elect three commissioners, one for one year, one for two years, and one for three years, and on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January of each year thereafter, they shall elect a commissioner for three years to take the place of the one whose term is about to expire.

This board of commissioners constitutes the governing board of the district with the county treasurer as the treasurer of said board, who is responsible on his bond for the faithful keeping of all money entrusted to him.

This board of commissioners as soon as appointed and qualified shall proceed to fix a fair and impartial valuation upon each tract of land within said district and shall make a tabulated statement and chart of the same. Where it is proposed to improve more than one road, or parts of road or roads, there shall be a separate statement for each road. They shall then request the county engineer to draw up plans and make estimates of the cost of improving said road or roads. (These estimates may be for improvement of one road, or more than one road, or a portion of such road or roads, and for any method of improvement desired.) These estimates must be separate statements of each road or roads, or of such portion of such road or roads, as it is proposed to improve, and contain such proportionate cost for each road that would be chargeable against each separate tract of land. This statement shall also give each proportionate part of the cost if paid in cash, if in 5 years or in 20 years.

The lands within one mile of the road shall be charged in proportion to the full valuation; that from one mile to two miles from such road in proportion of 75 per cent of the full valuation; and all lands lying without the 2-mile limit, in proportion to 50 per cent of the full valuation. (As for example, if the cost of improvement should amount to $1.00 per acre for lands within one mile of the road it would be $0.75 per acre for lands from one to two miles from the road and $0.50 per acre for all more than two miles off the road.)

These tabulated statements and apportionments together with the engineer's estimates, plans, maps and profiles are then submitted to the land owners of the district for examination and explanation. They shall then take a vote upon the following propositions:

1st. Shall the roads mentioned in said report be constructed or improved according to any of the plans and out of any of the materials therein set out and the costs thereof charged against the lands in said district?

2nd. What materials shall be used in constructing or improving said road or roads?

3rd. Shall the cost be paid (1) at once, (2) distributed through five years, (3) distributed through twenty years?

On every proposition each acre of land shall count one vote. For a determination of the first proposition it requires a majority vote of the acres of all lands within the district; of the other propositions a majority only of the acres represented by the land owners present and voting. If upon a vote, the first proposition is lost the county court shall rescind its former order setting aside said district and shall order all the costs which have accrued to be paid out of the general road fund of the county. If, however, the proposition carries, the cost of said work is charged against the district and when the commissioners' report is recorded upon the county records the said public road district becomes a political subdivision of the state, a body corporate, and possesses the usual powers of a corporation for public purposes.

The state highway engineer shall then review the plans and estimates and draw up specifications for such improvements as were voted. When these plans and specifications meet with the approval of the commissioners the said commissioners shall proceed to let contracts for the work.

If the proposition is to pay by cash payments, then, upon completion of the work a special bill, payable to the contractor in sixty (60) days, shall be made out against each tract of land for the entire amount apportioned against it. If for 5 or 20 payments, bonds are issued against the road districts to bear not more than six per cent interest. The contractor is paid in cash, and the amount apportioned against each tract of land is collected as direct taxes.

All subsequent direct county road taxes, licenses and poll taxes raised within the district shall be set aside by the county to the credit of the said road district for purposes of maintenance within the district.

All poll taxes within the district are to be paid in cash and collected as other taxes. The proportionate part of all tools or road implements of the county shall be turned over to the district by the road overseers, and the roads of the district are to be governed and maintained by the commissioners of the district.

If at any subsequent time it is wished to further improve any road or roads, or portions thereof, within the district, in any manner desired, it is accomplished by a vote in the district, following the same process and in a similar manner as above explained.

If, under this method, a road should cost $2,000 per mile to improve, and the district should be two and one-half miles wide on each side of the road, or a total width of five miles, the cost in cash to the land within the one mile limit is $0.80 per acre; within the one or two mile limit $0.60 per acre, and on all further than two miles from the road $0.40 per acre. Or, $0.04, $0.03 and $0.02 per acre, respectively, per year, if the payment is distributed through twenty years.

If the district should be two miles on a side, or a total width of four miles, and the road costs $3,000 per mile, the cost per acre would be $1.34 for the inner mile, and $1.00 for the second mile if paid in cash, or, if in twenty year payments, about $0.07 and $0.05 per acre per year, respectively. For a district having a total width of five miles and the road costing $5,000 per mile, the cost per acre is $2.00 for the inner mile, $1.50 for the second mile, and $1.00 for all outside the second mile limit. (All tracts of land within the district being assessed at relative valuation.)

This law is just, since it provides that the cost of improvement shall be paid by the owners of the property adjacent to the road, and therefore by those using the road. By a graduated tax the property lying on the road and more greatly benefited thereby, pays a greater proportion of the cost than property further from the road which receives less benefit. It is left entirely to the land owners to have or not to have the improvements and the kind of improvements they desire. No one land owner can stand out with a refusal to assist in the cost, while receiving full benefits, but he will be compelled to pay his just share under the majority rule. Provisions are made whereby other roads in the district, thereby the cross roads, can also be improved, either at the same or some future time. It provides for local use of the local taxes and the maintenance of the district roads by the district itself.—Very respectfully, Curtis Hill, State Highway Engineer.

THE GOLF TOURNAMENT

Sedalia Players Place Confidence in Mr. Reynolds.

In the state golf tournament of the Country club in St. Louis Tom R. Collins yesterday defeated the Sedalia player, W. H. Reynolds.

In order to reach the finals in the consolation tourney, which will be played tomorrow, Mr. Reynolds will have to defeat Jess L. Carleton in the semi-finals today.

While Mr. Carleton is an experienced golfer, Sedalia golfers have great confidence in their representative, and expect to see him bring home the trophy of the contest.

H. C. Potter, who defeated Mr. Reynolds in the first round of the championship, yesterday defeated Ralph McKittrick 3 up and 2 to go. This shows Mr. Reynolds as having played Mr. Potter a closer match than did Mr. McKittrick.

FARMER'S WIFE HANGS SELF

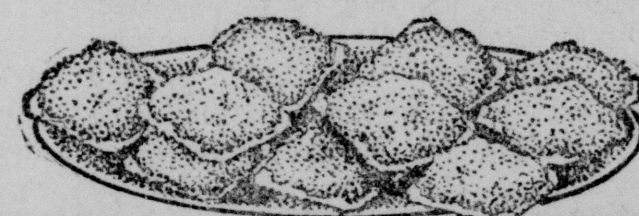

Got Improvised Scaffold While Her Husband Was Away.

Ravenwood, Mo., Oct. 11.—Mrs. Riley Row, wife of a well-to-do farmer whose home is two miles west of here, committed suicide at an early hour yesterday. She had been in poor health for some time, and for three weeks her actions had been peculiar.

Yesterday morning her husband arose at daybreak, made a fire and went out to feed his stock. When he returned to the house he found it as quiet as when he left. Seeing a bunch of matches soaking in a cup of water he became suspicious, and began a hurried search of all the rooms, finally discovering the body of his wife thrown over a garret roller and drawn through the trap door of the ceiling below, all from 1902.

Two boxes had been placed under the trap door, the feet of the dead woman barely clearing the upper box. Her body was cut down by neighbors. It is not known whether she had swallowed any of the water soaked from the matches.

Mrs. Row leaves three children, all grown. Row's mother committed suicide several years ago by shooting herself.

DES MOINES BRANCH OF THE W. F. M. S. MAN'S FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

ELIZABETH PEARSON IS PRESIDENT

Meetings Will Be Held at the First M. E. Church, Beginning Thursday, and Will Be Concluded Sunday.

The sessions of the Des Moines branch of the W. F. M. S., to convene in this city Oct. 17-20, will be presided over by Miss Elizabeth Pearson, of Des Moines, Ia., whose name is familiar and dear to every member of the branch.

In 1905 Miss Pearson completed twenty-five years of superb service for the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, having been ten years secretary of the Des Moines conference, and for fifteen years president of the branch.

The Elizabeth Pearson thank offering given in 1905 to celebrate this event amounted to fifteen thousand dollars, and was truly a gift of love, poured out in affection for this devoted worker for the sake of those who sit in darkness and for the honor of God.

Of this sum $7,000 was spent in the erection of a much needed building for the Industrial School and Orphanage at Thandaung, Burma, called the Elizabeth Pearson Hall; the rest went for the general work. This fine school, the chapel of which is called for Dr. and Mrs. Wagoner, of St. Louis, was finished last year, much to the relief and joy of Miss Fannie Perkins, the energetic and efficient principal.

Referring to her life of service in the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, Miss Pearson once said: "These have been to my soul twenty-five beautiful and blessed years, and if from the oftentimes faulty warp and woof of my service, the Master Workman can weave even one robe of righteousness for some woman across the sea, who but for my toil would never have known my Christ, I shall be more than satisfied. My cup of joy will overflow."

One who knows Miss Pearson well and has been long associated with her, writes these words:

"The seal of divine favor is upon her work. These years have witnessed a marvelous development of the work of the society in the Des Moines branch. There have been times of great emergency for lack of funds, and then the heart of this true leader girded itself for a mightier stretch of faith. Her courageous words would ring out, inspiring her co-workers, and the issue was always blessed. The victories of these years need no rehearsing here, they will always be remembered."

The opportunity of seeing and hearing this noble woman and many other elect ladies of the Des Moines branch will be the privilege of Sedalia people the coming week, a privilege it is hoped they will not fail to improve.

Extra Service at Walch Bros.

Attention of fair visitors and Sedalians as well is called to the very excellent service at Walch Bros. cafe, 109 and 111 West Second street. This week. A large corps of experienced waiters and cooks, nearly twenty in all, are employed and the result was apparent today when hundreds of people were served with the greatest precision and promptness with fine dinners and lunches.

Walch Bros. never do anything by halves, and anticipating the necessities for this week they have amply provided for everybody with everything that is good to eat. A very important feature of this extra service is the moderate prices asked. Meals and short orders are served at all hours of the day and night. Especial attention is called to the service of fish of all kinds and other delicious eatables.

MANY CROOKS IN ST. JOSEPH

Police Chief Says They Consider Kansas City an "Easy Place."

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 11.—Never before in the history of the St. Joseph police department has there been such a wave of petty crime as has prevailed here during the past month. "I really do not know what is responsible for this sudden influx of crooks," said Chief Evans. "Unless it is the report that Kansas City has become so thoroughly demoralized in its police department."

"The report has gone out that Kansas City is an easy place to pick up a fat living for a crook, and it seems that whole hordes of them stop in this town. Nine-tenths of those who are arrested here as suspicious characters say they are on their way to Kansas City."

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. The World's Punishment.

They were watching a mother slap a crying child, drag her from the fire escape and set her down so hard on the floor that if she had been glass she would have broken. She sat there and cried some more. "I don't see why she does that," sighed the woman; "if she will only let her alone she will cry all she wants to from the slaps of the world."

DeWitt's Carbolyzed Witch Hazel Hazel Salve is good for little burns and big burns, small scratches, or bruises and big ones. It is healing and soothing. Good for piles. Sold by Arlington pharmacy.

Inspid Company.

Low spirits are my true and faithful companions; they get up with me, go to bed with me, make journeys and returns as I do; nay and pay visits and will even affect to be jocular and force a feeble laugh with me; but most commonly we sit alone together and are the prettiest inspid company in the world.—Thomas Gray.

Really Clever Scheme.

A wagfish tobaccoist named a favorite brand of cigars "Strictly Prohibited," so that when his attention was called to a notice "Smoking Strictly Prohibited," he could say, "That's just what I am doing."

Found Three Empty Purses.

O. E. Wheeler, a Katy shopkeeper, 802 East Sixth street, while working early this morning, found three empty pocketbooks in the Katy jail south of Fifth street. One of the purses contained a paid check on Jefferson City bank, signed L. S. Sneath.

Thousands of women, after trying many different kinds of treatment for their obstinate afflictions or diseases, have found in Cardui a helping hand. If you suffer from any of the painful and distressing diseases peculiar to your sex, take Cardui, for it will probably do as well for you as it did for Mrs. Wm. Turner, of Bartonville, Ill., who writes: "Before taking

WINE OF CARDUI Woman's Relief

I suffered untold agony for 8 years with various female diseases. I had bearing-down pains and pains in my head and back. I doctored and doctored and finally I was operated on, but I suffered all the more. I then tried medicines without relief, so I finally began to take Wine of Cardui. A NEW ORDER WAS MADE

BY TWO MEMBERS OF THE MIS-SOURI STATE RAILWAY COMMISSION.

IT AFFECTS THE MISSOURI PACIFIC

Must Reduce the Running Time for a Period of Sixty Days, After Which Another Inspection Will Be Made.

Jefferson City, Oct. 11.—Rube Oglesby, democrat, and Frank Wightman, republican, members of the Missouri board of railroad commissioners, made known yesterday their report on the inspection of the branch lines of the Missouri Pacific system in Missouri. The report covers the Independence, Lexington, Bagnell and Versailles branches.

The inspection was made by Oglesby and Wightman on a special train out of Kansas City September 25, 26 and 27. John A. Knott, chairman of the board, made the inspection on foot and does not join in this report. He has not made his report yet.

The report made public today contains information regarding the rolling stock, business and speed limits on the different branches and points out that, while much of the track is in good repair, there are stretches where the ties are rotten. Broken angle bars, low joints, mud filled cuts and grass grown tracks were also seen. Because of what the commissioners found they made this order:

"That until the defects are removed the movement of trains over the Independence branch should not exceed fifteen miles an hour, that the movement of trains over the part of the Lexington branch from Lexington to a point five miles west of Concordia shall not exceed twenty miles an hour and that the speed restrictions shall remain in force for sixty days, or until we are officially notified that the required improvements have been made, at which time a re-inspection may be ordered.

To Make Flowers Stand Upon Bowl.
Lay a large platter upside down on a good sized piece of white mosquito net. Then cut the net two inches around the outline of the platter.
Overcast the material, taking stitches about one-half inch deep. Next run a drawstring—white twine—all around the inside of the stitching; fit over the platter, draw tight, and tie the twine. Fill the platter with water; stick through the net short stemmed flowers, preferably sweet peas, pansies, or violets, and lean small ferns against the outside of the platter to hide the mosquito netting.

Apples Baked with Almonds.
Peel and core six or eight tart apples, and let them simmer in a cupful each of sugar and water, boiled together for a few minutes until nearly tender. Turn the apples frequently to avoid breaking. A little lemon juice added to the syrup will improve the flavor. Put the apples into an agate pan and press into them almonds, blanched and split in halves. Dredge with powdered sugar, and brown in the oven. Serve hot with whipped cream or jelly, and the cold syrup in which the apples were cooked.

German Pickles.
One peck of green tomatoes and eight large onions. Slice and mix with a cupful of salt. Let stand five or six hours, drain and add one quart of vinegar and two quarts of water.
Again drain and add two pounds of sugar and three quarts of vinegar;
also two tablespoons each of cloves, cinnamon, ginger, allspice and mustard and a dozen finely chopped green peppers. Boil again from one to two hours, and seal in glass or earthen jars.

To Repair Irish Point.
If the edge and medallions of old Irish point curtains are in good condition, though the net is much broken, they can be transferred to new net without much trouble. Get enough bobbinette or Brussels net for the new curtains, cut the desired length, allowing for hems, and put into curtain stretchers. Baste the border of Irish point onto the net, then the medallions, and stitch on by the machine.

Circuit Through Horses' Bodies.
Startling as some of the recent developments in the field of communication by means of electricity have been, none is more unique and unexpected than that recently perfected by First Lieut. A. C. Knowles of the United States army, in which he uses the bodies of living cavalry horses as a part of his telegraph circuit. By his system it is possible for a cavalry officer at headquarters to communicate with a scouting party on a gallop, recalling them or changing the orders as expedient.—Popular Mechanics.

The Goose and the Telephone.
In the Falkland Islands, according to an official report, a telephone line is being constructed, under an agreement entered into by the government with the Falkland Islands company, between Stanley and the company's station at Darwin. The upland geese has proved to be a source of trouble in carrying out the work, the force with which the bird, in the course of its flight, sometimes strikes the wire, being sufficient to break it.

The Reason.
"I can't keep track of my neighbors at all, any more."
"Are they moving in and out?"
"No, but my friend, Mrs. Gadabout, is ill."

BASEBALL MANAGER AT 77

Wm. Bedell, of the Mexico Ball Team, is Nearly an Octogenarian.

Wm. Bedell, who brought the Mexico baseball team over recently to play Columbia, is 77 years old, says the Columbia Herald. Perhaps he is the oldest baseball manager in the country, but he has the agility of a young man. To the Herald reporter he said:

"I am an old man, but am a crank on baseball. I love the game, and can get as much pleasure out of the game as any boy. I am seventy-seven years old and have lived a strenuous life, having crossed the plains of California several times in the fifties.

"When I came to Columbia for the first time in 1859 I was a young man and Columbia was a young town.
There are just a few of the old citizens left that I know. It has been fifteen years since I was here.

"I am a full-blooded Spaniard and could hardly speak a word of English when I came to Columbia first.

"I attribute my good health and vigor at my advanced age to the fact that I never smoked or chewed or tasted beer or whiskey in my life."

Mr. Bedell attended the "Flower of the Ranch" at the Columbia Monday night. He said: "It was a fine show.
You have the prettiest opera house here I ever saw. You certainly get better shows here than the average town of this size."

EXHIBITORS ARE ANGRY

Live Stock Men Say They Were Buncoed at Interstate Fair.

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 11.—Live stock exhibitors from this city at the Interstate fair and exhibition held in Kansas City recently have a grievance against that show and have placed the matter in the hands of Prosecuting Attorney Keller.

According to the complaint made to Mr. Keller exhibitors at the show were induced to ship their exhibits to the Kansas City fair by a man who said he represented the Kansas City association and that all transportation on exhibits would be refunded.

He also said that there was $12-000 in the bank there to pay for live stock premiums. The local exhibitors say that although some of them won premiums they have been unable to collect a cent and they were never paid the transportation.

FORTUNE FOR FAIR PRINCESS.

Twenty Million Dollars Is Nest Egg
She Inherited.

Americans as well as Europeans who know her express delight at the good fortune of Princess Henry of Pless in inheriting, with her husband, $20,000,000, a comfortable addition to their modest fortune. The money is derived by the popular couple from the estate of the duke of Pless, whom nobody on this side of the water knew well, and who had few friends even in England. Princess Henry, on the other hand, gained the hearts of many as Daisy West. It was by that name she was known to most of her acquaintances before her marriage, though in strict formality she was Miss Cornwallis-West. She was betrothed to Prince Henry at the end of her first season in society. The duke of Pless lived a life of almost feudal formality at Furstenstein, their splendid Renaissance castle in the borders of Bavaria. It must have required, indeed, power of adaptability in an English girl to take up the position of a sort of queen among the peasantry there, driving about magnificently in a carriage drawn by Arab grays, ridden by postillions in claretcolored coats and white beaver hats.
Still, Princess Henry has made the life at Furstenstein quite pleasantly informal, and most of the time is spent, when she entertains English or German friends there, in riding or driving in the beautiful woods or valleys near. Prince and Princess Henry of Pless spend a good deal of the year in London, and they are often over in England for the Cowes week. Their little son was baptized in London two years ago, it may be remembered.
The queen stood sponsor, and the ceremony was a splendid affair.

Odoriferous London.
Every great city is characterized by certain odors of its own. The smell of London suggests hansom cabs, smoke, asphalt, lucifer matches, church hassoaks, and Virginia pipe tobacco, animated by a whiff of the sea and punctuated by coal tar.

Shake Up Boiled Water.
The flat taste of drinking water which has been boiled is due to the fact that the dissolved air which it contains has been expelled in the process of boiling. By putting the boiled water in bottles until they are only three-quarters full and shaking well, enough air will be incorporated with the water to restore its palatability.

The Hen as a Trust Buster.
A billion, two hundred and fifty million dozen eggs were produced in this country last year. That means that the hen, the greatest trust buster of the age, took 15,000,000 whacks at the don't forget one of the mightiest of them all—the industrious hen.

Every woman should know that the danger, pain and horror of child-
